A GRAND SALE — OF — Imported Dress Goods BEGINNING MONDAY. Special Announcement

D. Crawford & Co. announce an important Exhibition and Sale of High Novelties in Fine Foreign Dress Goods having received large additions to their stock. These goods were bought at an immense sacrifice on their original value, having been sent by leading French Manufacturers as specimens of styles upon which to take orders. Owing to detention in the Bonded Warehouse, they were put upon the American market too late for the intended purpose and were bought by the Crawford buyer at an immense reduction. This Exhibit includes fabrics from the markets of Paris, London and Berlin, and materials suitable for street, reception and sea-side toilets.

CRAWFORD'S

Will also sell to-morrow 200 handsome Directoire robe patterns, in French fabrics, with skirts covered with embroidery in wild flower designs, at one half their value; for instance a $45.00 suit for $22.50, and others in same proportion of reduction.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.
ONDON, May 4.—
Mr. Chamberlain has taken an important step, one which completely severs his relations with the Liberal party and carries him directly into the Tory ranks. He has written a letter to the President of the Liberal Union Society, of which he has been a member since the beginning of its existence, saying he is no longer in harmony with the principles of the society and therefore begs to withdraw his name from its lists of members. The Liberation Society is the most radical body in England. Its chief object is the disestablishment of the English Church. This withdrawal is absent himself from the opening ceremonies on Monday, and the result is that charges of affairs will represent all the foreign embassies and legations save that of Russia.

The wives of all the Ambassadors and Ministers, however, with the exception of the Baroness von Mohrenheim, wife of the Russian Ambassador, will witness the great spectacle, including the passage of the President from the Trocadero, under the Eiffel tower, to the Central Hall.
What retaliation the French Government may make for the various powers in withdrawing their representatives nobody can tell, and possibly no notice will be taken of it, but the people are outspoken in their opinions as to the insult.

CELEBRATIONS IN THE PROVINCES.
Elaborate and general preparations have been made to celebrate the event in the provinces.
All of the garrisons will fire salutes and the authorities will distribute alms to the poor in honor of the occasion. In all of the communes and prefectures popular banquets will be provided and there will be free dramatic performances in the evening in the places where it is the custom for the State to hire theaters for the purpose.

At Lyons the Grand and the Celestine theaters have been engaged and they will be thrown open to the public.
At Besant there will be a monster proce-sion of trades unions.
At Bayonne there will be a startling innovation upon French customs in the nature of a bull fight. It will be a tame affair, however, judged from a Spanish point of view, as the horns of the bull will be tipped with wooden balls to prevent possible injury to the fighters. The safety of the bull has also been considered in providing the fighters with wooden substitutes for the lethal weapons used in the anguinary contests waged in the adjoining kingdom.

The Municipal Council of Athens will visit the French legation at the Greek capital tomorrow for the purpose of expressing their sympathy with the Exposition and regret at the action of the powers in ordering their representatives to hold aloof from the opening ceremony.

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOR.
A rumor was prevalent in Paris yesterday that after the opening exercises the Expontion would be closed for a week in order to enable the completion of the preparations, which have been delayed by a variety of circumstances. To-day's preparations, however, indicate that the likelihood of such action is remote, as enormous progress has been made within the last twenty-four hours.
Miles of walks, covered with bright-colored awnings, have been laid out, and the work on them finished. Flowers have been planted in every spot available, hundreds of magnificent palms spread their leaves aloft and acres of grass have been cleared off, so that to outward appearances very little in the way of preparation remains to be done.

The restaurants are all in working order.
The noted London caterers, Spiers and Pond, have dispatched from here a special train with hundreds of bar maids to serve refreshments. The girls are under the immediate supervision of an experienced matron, whose orders must be implicitly obeyed. There will be a number of restaurants in the building, each of a separate grade.

WATCHING BOULANGER.
Under the attendance of this assembly and the one to follow the opening of the exhibition, there is an apparent truce to politics; or rather the French people have forgotten their political quarrels for the present and are absorbed in anticipation of the festivities to follow. But the political chiefs are busy if not quiet. Measures against Gen. Boulanger are being pursued with unrelenting vigilance. The disturbing information is given that the general elections may be postponed from September until next spring. This would be a desperate resort of the Government to gain time against Boulanger, and would cause great agitation if permitted in. In the meantime the commission of the sensational court of impeachment are piling up such evidence as they can find. Although proceedings are conducted with the most secrecy, any important evidence is sure to be made public. So far it amounts to little or nothing.

M. GOBLET'S OPINION.
M. Goblet, recently Minister of Foreign Affairs and formerly in the Cabinet when Boulanger was Minister of War, declares that if nothing more or stronger shows, he has been deceived into voting for the impeachment of his former colleague. The commission is taking into its baskets every scrap of paper, card, note, letter, military order in the handwriting of the accused, which they think by any construction may be made to bear against him.

Gen. Boulanger remains quietly at his house in Portland place, but he is not passive. A vast amount of still work is going on. His secretaries and assistants are as busy as merchants' clerks from morning to night. There are not so many promiscuous visitors. Most all who go and come now make no display and seem bent on business. Consultations rather than receptions are the order of the day. The conference is the order of the day.

ON Wednesday next a conference will be held at the India office of representatives of the various commercial chambers and of leading shippers at the ports of London, Liverpool, Glasgow and Cork to consider measures to be taken for diminishing the percentage of impurities in Indian wheat exported to Great Britain. Of over 700 millers who were communicated with on the subject by the India office, 548 state they were prevented from using Indian wheat in consequence of its impurities; a large number would use a much larger quantity if they could obtain it in a clean state, and many express their approval of a form of contract limiting the admixture to 2 per cent. Among the papers to be presented to the conference will be a selection of extracts from the report and remarks by millers, including firms in Liverpool, Manchester and other Northern towns.

THE PARLOR. Today that the
before Whit-

Parrell and Mr. Charles Russell are determined that there shall be an exhaustive exhibition of robust testimony, no matter how much time may be consumed. The committee of the Parrell Indemnity Fund met in Dublin yesterday, and at the request of Mr. Parrell, drew a check in favor of Solicitor Lewis for $5,000, making a total of $20,000 thus far expended from the fund, and leaving a balance of $16,975.

THE COUNTERFEIT CONVICTION.
The House of Commons has given notice that they will support the motion to be made in the House of Commons Monday night by Mr. L.
Atherly-Jones, Gladstonian member for Northwest Durham, to adjourn for the purpose of interrogating the Government regarding the conviction of Mr. Conybeare at Fal-caragh. The Tories have issued an urgent whip for Monday night and will resist the motion strenuously. Should the Speaker decide to accept the motion, the case of Prof. Harrison, who was accused of the same crime, will be substituted and another offered. Upon leaving court after his conviction, Mr. Conybeare repeated his call for three cheers for the plan of the trial and the crowd in the Court-house responded with almost deafening shouts.

FRANCE ON PARADE.
Preparations for the Opening of the Paris Exposition—French Affairs.
Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, May 4.—The French officials are in a state of despondency, not unmixed with indignation, at the action of the various powers with regard to the opening of the exposition.
Owing to the combined pressure of Germany and the Belgian Minister has been ordered to

in a clean state, and many express their approval of a form of contract limiting the admixture to 2 per cent. Among the papers to be presented to the conference will be a selection of extracts from the report and remarks
by millers, including firms in Liverpool, Manchester and other Northern towns.

party, and it is said the Orleanists and Bonap-artists will be represented. The date has not been made public, but it is surmised from the number of arrivals to-day at the General's residence and at the Langham Hotel, which is nearby, that the conference will open tomorrow.

THE COPPER SYNDICATE.
All efforts to hush up the scandal of the Comptoir D'Escompte have failed. While the financial settlement seems to have been satisfactorily effected it has been found that the illegal action of the old board of directors cannot be overlooked. It has accordingly been decided that some of them, if not the whole number, must be arrested and subjected to a judicial examination. The process may take the form of a criminal action, in which case highly interesting revelations are to be expected. The manner in which the details of this tremendous failure have been kept out of sight betokens the rotten condition of affairs.

GERMAN LAW.
How It Will Be Construed to Convict an Editor—
The Berlin Budget.
Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, May 4.—Several leading German lawyers expressed the opinion to-day that the German Government will fail to secure a conviction of the editor of the Zeu-gung on the charge of "attacking the King's majesty." The evidence on which the editor is to be prosecuted is the article of March 9 in which the Emperor William I. was called a demagogue and somewhat roughly handled. It so happens that it is quite lawful to say hard things of a dead King or Emperor. A buzz does not hurt him.
If it injures any one it is presumably the person who has recourse to it. In any case it does not constitute a libel or slander on the King. The German prosecutors, however, have discovered a means of bringing the wicked editor to book. Evidence is to be brought that William II. is the spiritual successor of William I., that he shares his grandfather's views and approves of his measures. It will be urged that there is no distinction between criticisms on the one and criticisms on the other. The public prosecutor will therefore ask that the editor be found guilty and sent to prison. It is hardly credible that such a travesty of justice should take place, but it is significant that intelligent observers in Germany expect the lawyers to proceed in this way indicated.
There is, indeed, a precedent for the argument to be found not in the law reports, but in the ancient story of the wolf and the lamb.
The views of the wolf bore a striking resemblance to those attributed to the crown lawyers at Berlin.

DISCONTENT AMONG WORKERS.
Much uneasiness prevails in Germany in consequence of anticipated strikes on a large scale and in various industries. It is expected that the demands for higher wages and reduced working hours will shortly be made, and that these will not be conceded without some conflict. Trade unions, in the English sense, have not yet gained a foothold in Germany, but combinations among working people are being rapidly established there. Employees in the iron and steel manufacturing and in cotton spinning have already formed strong combinations, and it is announced that the employers, owing to the profitable state of their trade, will concede a brotherhood of labor rather than run the risk of strikes. As it is generally admitted, the working people are poorly paid and work long hours, a compromise is hardly possible, especially as employers are widely divergent. Already demands for higher wages and a shortening of the working day by one hour have been put forward in various places widely apart that leaves little doubt that a general strike is sooner or later inevitable.

THE NAVAL SQUADRON.
Emperor William has abandoned his shooting trip to Count Hohenberg's estate in Silesia owing to a slight indisposition. Nevertheless he will go to Kiel to-morrow to attend the baptismal ceremonies of his infant nephew, the son of Prince Henry.

The coming maneuvers of the naval squadron at Wilhelmshaven will be the grandest and most extensive ever known in German waters. The squadron will consist of ten iron clads and two dispatch boats and will be commanded by Admiral Von Koll. Admiral Hollman will act as officer of the day.

The partial demolition of the castle at Meyering, on the estate of the late Crown Prince Rudolph, was begun yesterday and the work of transforming the building into a convent will commence as soon as possible. Five hundred workmen are engaged in making the necessary alterations, and the work is expected to be completed during the summer.

The health of the Empress of Austria is much improved by her sojourn at Wiesbaden.
She will remain there until May 28. She walks and drives in the forest daily. The Austrian Empress' luggage was attached to a through train from St. Petersburg to Wiesbaden, and yesterday and was entirely destroyed. Her valuable collection of gold and silver plate was melted into a shapeless mass and a large quantity of valuable property was destroyed.
Count Barrogan, and M. Delbous, brother of the celebrated African explorer, were passengers on the train.

REDEEMING THE SPOILS.
The Mahdi's Great Empire Crumbling Before El Senoussi.
Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, May 4.
FEET may change
the Sudan drama seems to be entering on its fifth act, and it is possible that within a few days news may be received that the final catastrophe has taken place and that the Mahdism is a thing of the past.

The report this week that Senoussi's Lieutenant had captured Khartoum, and that the Khalifa had fled in the direction of the Bahr-el-Ghazal, caused considerable uneasiness among the friends of Emin Pasha and Henry M. Stanley. In an interview to-day Zehehr Pasha says that he has positive information that Bahab, an old agent of his, three months ago withdrew his influence to the district west and south of the Bah-el-Ghazal.

Zehehr believes him to have now at his disposal a force of between forty and sixty thousand men. His alliance, if Emin had occasion for further fighting, would, therefore, be valuable, and the affairs of the Mahdi upon the Southern frontier of the Sudan may be disposed of. Emin, he thinks, is doing well and believes that in a few days a message directly from Stanley will be received by the northern route, which Zehehr declares to be, in spite of difficulties, the most practicable.

KISSED THE QUEEN.
An American Duchess at Court—Fred Grant and Wife—Society Gossip.

LONDON, May 4.
HE sensation of yesterday's drawing room was our own Duchess. No woman there attracted so much attention. Her rich, but unostentatious dress, dignified, but easy demeanor,
charmed the Queen,
with whom such things go a long way.
Two papers take occasion to-day to say she looked every inch a duchess, and some admiring American ladies who watched her critically, say she looked every inch a queen. The Duke of Marlborough was not at Court with her, but she got along well enough without him. Our Duchess lost nothing by the polite way in which she was elbowed out of the first drawing-room this season because Lady Blandford, the Duke's divorced wife, was there. Yesterday's drawing-room was really the drawing-room par excellence of the season. There are usually fewer debutantes at the second drawing-room, but more distinguished people and a far more brilliant show.

NOT QUITE CORDIAL.
With the exception of the Queen, the reception of our Duchess by royalty can scarcely be called cordial, though she scrupulously obtained all rights to which her position as a Duchess entitled her. She was introduced immediately after the diplomatic corps had passed, and, as is usual when duchesses are present, her Majesty held out her right cheek for her to kiss. In every movement the Duchess showed ease and grace and the effects of the careful drilling she had gone through. Though many critical eyes were upon her she never hesitated for a moment or made a single mistake.

She has grown somewhat stouter than she was when she was married in New York and on the whole looks very much better than she did the first few months after her arrival in England. The Duchess is a good deal taller than the Queen and had to stoop somewhat to kiss the cheek proffered her.
It is a long time since the Queen was kissed by an American-born Duchess, probably not since the Duchess of Leeds died, many years ago. After the salutation the Queen held the Duchess' hand for a moment and spoke a few words of kindly welcome, but the royal cordiality did not extend to the Prince and Princess of Wales.

As the Duchess has never met either of them personally, it was not absolutely necessary that there should be any other recognition than a formal bow. Both the Prince and Princess are great friends of the Duke of Abercorn, who is a brother of the Duchess, and as such are socially credited with a feeling of ill resentment to the Duke of Marlborough's second wife.

Among the Americans at the Court to whom the Duchess was introduced were Minister Fred Grant and wife.

HOW SHE WAS DRESSED.
Another strong point our Duchess made with the Queen was to remember that the Court is in mourning and to go in mourning dress. She was superbly clothed. Her bodice was of black velvet, with a wide band of white, with an exquisite design of sweeping ferns thrown gracefully across the train. It was lined with satin and bordered all round with ostrich feathers, relieved at intervals by bouquets of splendid plumes. The under-skirt was of black net embroidered in a Louis XVI. design, bold and effective, in gold, silver and fine cut jets. The back was most cunningly wrought with smaller feathers, and the skirt was a masterpiece of art, as to look like the finest lace. Her grace also wore magnificent ornaments, among them the famous Marlborough diamonds, in which the first Duchess, Sarah, was buried. The Duchess was superbly carried with this unique costume, was made entirely of the new celebrated Blenheim orchids of the "collegiate" and "egyptian" varieties, shading from a delicate mauve to white surrounded with silver, and pale green foliage surrounded by similar orchids, the whole poetry being tied with long mauve silk ribbons.

MADE A FRIEND OF THE DOWAGER.
The Duchess was presented by the dowager Duchess, who, despite the protests of some other members of the family, taking her kindly to the new Duchess. That is of immense help to her in a social way. The dowager Duchess wore a train and bodice of very handsome black brocade satin.

After court was over the Duchess went to Vanderwyde, the American photographer, and sat for the first photograph she has had taken since she has been in England. Her carriage with the Duke's coat-of-arms at the door of the studio was recognized by the artist, and a large crowd gathered at the door to wait for the Duchess to come out.

"I have photographed many famous women in court costume," said Vanderwyde to your correspondent, "but I never photographed a better dressed or more stately woman than our American Duchess."

THE GRANTS AT COURT.
When Fred Grant and wife first got here they wanted, tourist like, to rush off instantly to Paris, but wiser friends persuaded them that it would be a good thing for the American Minister to Austria to be presented to the British court, so they gave up their dreams of shopping on the boulevards and went to yesterday's drawing-room.

Mr. Grant was dressed very prettily, but Col. Fred, in knickerbockers, was not very impressive. They both enjoyed it though, and Henry White introduced them to some useful people, among others Count Dey, the Austrian Ambassador, and the Countess. The Grants have been well received here. Mrs.
Mackay entertains them to-night. They leave Monday for Vienna, after a short stay in Paris.

Two New York girls who made their first appearance at court were the Misses Maude and Mabel Bonner, daughters of George T. Bonner. They were dressed alike, very prettily, in white velvets. The Misses Bonner have been about two years and sail for home with their father on the Teutonic, May 5.

Still other American presenters were Mrs.
Frank Henry Evans, who will be remembered in America as Mrs. Irving Vanwart, Jr. She was beautifully dressed.

FASHIONABLE WEDDINGS.
Matilda Travers came to London to marry Walter Gay, the artist. She was being a Catholic and he a Protestant, complications arose in Paris which were easier to avoid than to overcome, so they were married here in the Warwick Street Catholic Church, and had their wedding breakfast at Brown's Hotel. J. S. Morgan and some other American friends were present. Mrs. Travers wore a gray silk. Mrs. George Fearing, her sister, did not know till the last minute that it was necessary to wear a bonnet at a wedding in a Catholic church and had to get one at the hotel, which though the best she could do under the circumstances, contrasted strongly with the rest of her wedding apparel. One fashionable friend of Mrs. Travers was not to tell even her mother where she was going on her wedding tour. Mrs. Travers left here today for Paris.

Another semi-American wedding here this week was the daughter of the late William Wilberforce Westar of Hilton, Pa., to John Shaw of Derby. The bride wore a dress of ivory moultre silk, with full court train and diamond ornaments.

PROMINENT PEOPLE.
Cornelius Vanderbilt is comfortably settled at the Herbert House for the season, though he has not done much specially yet. His carriage rolled beside Boulanger's for nearly a mile in the park yesterday.

Fred Vanderbilt ran over from Paris this week for the races with Hoyt. He is coming back to spend a portion of the season at the Grand House.

Mr. and Mrs. Travers and Mrs. Mc-

Hotel. Mrs. Tree's health is so much improved that they expect to sail for home on the Etruria next Saturday.

David Dudley Field sailed for home on the City of Paris.

PROTECTION THAT DID NOT PROTECT!

Manufacturers who anticipated great increase of business this spring, owing to the settlement of the tariff question in the election of Harrison, made immense quantities of goods. Most of them have been disappointed, and as a consequence enormous stocks of Dry Goods have been thrown on the markets.

Buyers were in the markets just in time to secure some of the best lots. Cash secured them at ridiculously low prices, because they had to be sold. These purchases will be offered in

THE WHITE LEAD TRUST.

A BIG AMOUNT OF ITS CERTIFICATES PURCHASED BY THE STANDARD OIL CO.

Probable That the Collier and Southern White Lead Companies Will Be Absorbed in the Trust—Mr. Henry Rogers and Col. Thompson Said to Be Coming Here for That Purpose—Mr. Pulitzer Talks.

NEW YORK, May 4. The white lead firms in the United States which produce as much as 1,000 tons a year each are in the white lead trust, except the Southern White Lead Co. of St. Louis, the Collier Co. of St. Louis, and the Atlantic White Lead Co. of New York. The John D. Lewis Co. of Philadelphia and Eckstein & Co. of Cincinnati want to join the trust last week. The certificates of the trust have been quoted at about 21 1/2 recently. The low price has enabled the Standard Oil magnates, Charles Pratt and John D. Archibald and others to absorb enough to obtain control. It is learned on indisputable authority that Henry H. Rogers and Col. Thompson of the Standard Oil Co. left this city for St. Louis last night to consummate arrangements for taking hold of the trust and probably absorbing the St. Louis companies.

John Archibald this afternoon admitted that the trust had been absorbed by the Standard Oil people.

Local White-Lead Men Talk.

On receipt of the above telegram, a Post-Dispatch reporter made a call at the residence of Mr. Alexander Easton, Secretary of the Collier White Lead Co., 332 1/2 Pine street. Mr. Easton was said to be out of the city. Col. Thomas Richeson, President of the Collier Co., was then sought and found at his residence, 115 South Sixteenth street.

Col. Richeson said: "The white lead trust has been in existence for over a year. It is composed of all the principal white lead companies in the country, with the exception of those mentioned in the telegram. The Southern White Lead Co. of Chicago and I think two Eastern ones. In regard to the purchase of the Standard Oil stock by the Standard Oil Co. magnates I know nothing, nor was I aware that Mr. Rogers and Col. Thompson of the Standard Oil Co. were about to visit St. Louis for the purpose of taking hold of the trust and probably absorbing the Collier and Southern companies, as stated in the telegram. It is all news to me, I assure you."

President of the St. Louis Lead & Oil Co., was found at his residence, 137 Kennett place. The St. Louis Lead & Oil Co., or rather a number of the stockholders of the company belong to the trust, and Mr. Pulitzer is one of the trustees. The telegram was read to Mr. Pulitzer, and he said:

"Source of information is correct, but it is my opinion that your correspondent probably jumped at conclusions too quickly."

"How long has the trust been in existence?"

"Two years in April. That is, the preliminary meeting for the formation of the trust was held two years ago last month, but the arrangements were not fully completed until the following October."

"Have any endeavors that you know of been made to get the Collier and Southern White Lead Co. into the trust?"

"None that I know of."

"Have you heard anything about the purchase of trust certificates by the Standard Oil Co.?"

"Yes, about three months ago a large number of the certificates were sold in New York and I heard—but I do not know whether the purchasers were persons interested in the Standard Oil Co."

"What was the aggregate amount of those purchases?"

"That I cannot say, but I do not believe they amounted to a controlling interest."

"What were these certificates quoted at, do you know?"

"They fluctuated from 20 to 22. The market price, 21 1/2, given in the telegram, is, I guess, about right."

"Do you know anything about the visit of Mr. Rogers and Col. Thompson to this city for the purpose of taking hold of the trust and probably absorbing the St. Louis companies which have thus far not been connected with the trust?"

"No, I do not know anything about it. I credit the report, of course, though, I don't know but what it may be true."

"As a member of the trust would you not be likely to know of such a visit for the purpose stated?"

"Well, let me explain. A great many people have not the right idea about a trust. Its formation does not cut out the companies which compose it to lose their corporate identity, and great many of the stockholders in all the several companies may not enter into the trust at all. Now these latter are the persons who are individually just as they would certificates of stock of any company and I have no means of knowing, unless by investigation in New York, how much the recent sale of white lead trust certificates amounted to what will be the influence which the sale will have."

"Do you think the purchases by the Standard Oil Co. people were made to further their monopoly?"

"No, there could be no connection between the white lead and the oil business. They made the purchases, undoubtedly, simply as an investment. They have not seen fit to buy as an investment and merely considered the white lead trust certificates a good thing to speculate in."

A CONDUCTOR'S PALACE.

The Building to Be Erected in Iowa—Receivers Wanted in Texas—General News.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—The order of Railway Conductors of the United States and Canada has decided to erect a monster building at some point in the Missouri Valley, to cost from $250,000 to $300,000, and a number of adjoining cities are working to secure its location. Mass meetings have been called to meet here, on May 6, to take action toward securing the building at St. Louis. The order is incorporated under the laws of Iowa, where it had its birth, and under the act of incorporation the building for headquarters must be located in the State. Cedar Rapids is the most formidable rival St. Louis City will have. The location will be settled at the annual meeting of the order, to be held at Denver, on May 14.

Railroad Shops at Lexington.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 4.—An election was held here to-day to empower the City of Lexington to subscribe $50,000 toward bringing the Elizabethtown & Big Sandy Railroad shops to this city. The majority in favor of the shops was 450. This will undoubtedly secure them, as C. P. Huntington has signified his intention of locating them here provided the city subscribes the amount mentioned.

Stock Cattle Rates.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—The Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Co. has given notice of a reduction in its stock cattle tariffs, to be applied on all its lines. The stock cattle rate is 75 per cent of beef cattle rates, and, according to the ruling of the State Commissions, the Iowa roads are compelled to put in a stock cattle rate in the State. The action of this road in applying the rate on its lines outside of the State is very apt to create enough trouble among other lines to compel all of them to put in effect a similar rate.

White-Led Reid Sails for France.

Flowers in Profusion, and Friends Bid Them Good Bye.

NEW YORK, May 4.—White-Led Reid, United States Minister to France, accompanied by Mrs. Reid and the two children, sailed for his post of duty this morning on the French steamship La Bourgogne. Flowers in profusion decked the pier, and many of their friends were at the pier to extend them parting farewells.

SERIOUS RESULTS OF RECENT STRIKES.

Italians Given the "Go By" by Railroad Officials—Labor News.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 4.—A case of probable murder has been brought to light here which is very liable to have a grave effect on the thousands of people who are opposed to the "scab," or non-union drivers, employed at the time of the strike several weeks ago by the street railway company. Timothy Sullivan, a man 33 years of age, was left at the door of his father's house on Tuesday night by his employer, Louis Meisenbach, in a stupefied and unconscious condition, with blackened eyes, severe contusions on his side, and a deep cut on his head. Dr. J. T. Thurber was first called, and when the man continued in his dazed condition Police Surgeon Pierce was also summoned by Private Detective Joseph Baker, a friend of the deceased. It was deemed best to remove the injured man. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The result of to-day's autopsy shows that the man was undoubtedly the victim of foul play. A friend of the victim tells this story:

"I came here right before last and was told that Tim was lying on stairs sick. I went up stairs to see the man and found him nearly unconscious. When asked who had injured him, he muttered 'scabs,' with an impression, but I could not distinguish much of anything that he tried to say. He was employed near the Union Depot, and it is supposed he became engaged in a fight with the drivers. There is much feeling here."

Italian Strikers.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

OMAHA, Neb., May 4.—There is anger and bitterness at the headquarters of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railroad. For several years this company has given preference to the "dago" element for its labor service, claiming that the Italians were more sober and reliable than other classes of help. Early in the present week the forces employed in the Union Depot strike for some frivolous cause, and the company, after much trouble and some violence, succeeded in filling their places with others of their countrymen. On Thursday night a number of brawling Italians were seen in the depot, and the company closed its pit and brought the entire outfit to the depot. The next day the company published the employment of Italians on any part of the system for any purpose.

Indiana Coal Mines Shut Down.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

BRAZIL, Ind., May 4.—All block coal mines are shut down. At a meeting here the operators' offer was rejected by a two-thirds vote, representing 1,000 miners. A motion to arbitrate was finally referred to the miners. This question will be voted on by the miners at every mine in the district, possibly at every mine in the State. The delegates will meet in this city. Arbitration may be the result. The miners claim that at 50 cents they cannot make a living out of it, while the operators claim they are making 80 cents per ton. The effect of the coal strike is being felt in the shut-out of the miners. The effect of the coal strike is being felt in the shut-out of the miners. A Miner's Lockout.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 4.—The coal mine operators in this city closed their mines to-day against all their miners. The cause of the shut-out was the refusal of the miners to take 60 cents per ton for mining when they had been getting 50 cents. The miners claim that at 60 cents they cannot make a living out of it, while the operators claim they are making 80 cents per ton. WAGNER OPERA FEST NIBELUNGENRING AT MUSIC H.

Followed by Meistersinger and Tan. THIS WEEK.

ONLY FIVE CITIES OF THE UNION, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Milw. Chicago, have been privileged to hear these wonderful compositions presented by the YORK METROPOLITAN OPERA CO. Through the enterprise of the Exposition Directors, people of St. Louis have now the same privilege, and the engagement here closes the tour of the company. The Directors having done their part in securing the GREATEST OPERA ATTRACTION IN THE WORLD, it remains for the people to show their appreciation of the opportunity by liberal patronage. The experiment has been made, at enormous expense, in the interest of the people; failure to support it liberally will justify a refusal to attempt any such great undertakings in future. The advance sale of seats has been satisfactory, and if the sales throughout the opera week continue on the same scale encouragement will be given to bring to St. Louis all the greatest and best attractions the world can afford. The following is the repertoire for the week:

Monday Night, RHEINGOLD, Tuesday Night, WALKURE, Wednesday Night, SIEGFRIED, Thursday Night, COTTERDAEMMERUNG, Friday Night, DIE MEISTERSINGER, and Saturday Matinee, TANNHAUSER.

The casts of the Operas will be published daily, commencing to-morrow morning. PRICES: Boxes, Parquette floor, $18.00; Boxes, Balcony floor, $14.00. Dress Circle, $2.50 and $2.00; Parquette, $2.00; Balcony, $1.50 and $1.00. A few choice season seats still for sale. Ticket office daily at Balmer & Weber's. MERCHANTS' BRIDGE MEETING, The Citizens of St. Louis opposed to the action of the Wagner Ferry Transfer Co. in trying to prevent the Merchants' Bridge Co. from getting into our city and thereby giving us relief from the nuisance which now confronts nearly all our gateways, are hereby respectfully requested to meet at Wagner Hall, Broadway and North Market st., on Monday evening, May 6, at 8 o'clock, to present a petition against the outrageous actions of the Wagner Ferry Transfer Co. in their efforts to exclude the bridge and delay the delivery of our city from the present grinding monopoly.

MICHAEL HELLER, THOMAS HARRINGTON, JOHN HARRINGTON, CHAS. JAMES, J. E. CUMMINGS, ISAAC H. WOOD.

A meeting of gentlemen interested in raising means for increasing the accommodations at the Convent of the Good Shepherd was held yesterday afternoon at the Lindell Hotel. Reports from the various committees were presented and a most satisfactory response to the appeals made by the friends of the institution were received. The meeting adjourned some date this week to be fixed by the ladies.

Is it Proper for a Gentleman to Offer His Umbrella to a Strange Lady in a Rain-storm?—The Young Ladies of St. Louis say It Is and Explain Why.

"A MAD MAN," also; that the sacrifice on the altar's part ought to be regarded as polite, cowardly and Chastrian kindness combined. No words may serve to thank the cavalier, rely to thank him and find where to return his bow. No further conversation need follow.

Mrs. ROSS ROMANE NELSON
stepped up from the seat, where her latest work of art rested, and said in response to the lady's "Circumstances must be our guides here on such subjects, and it is a matter for you to decide until the very moment of departure. If the lady is out in the rain, unprotected, there is a vista of cold, lost dress and shuddering which makes her shoulder more than the chill of the rain, and

MILL SALISE PITCHBURN ad: "Refuse the offer of an umbrella when caught in a rain storm? Why, what girl of sense and dream of such a thing? Of course she could accept an umbrella, or even a gossamer, from a strange gentleman under such circumstances. But she would be inwardly and candidly and inwardly grateful for the consideration and courtesy so practically expressed. It isn't likely that a man would attempt a flirtation in such an uncomfortable manner as in the fallow rain, and there could be no doubt of his motives of earnestness and devotion. If rain be made such a driving setting, and a girl should acknowledge the deference of the modern cavalier with pretensions and real pleasure, I always appreciate

Mr. John Bauman and daughter are making a tour of the Pacific slope. Miss Bauman will spend some time in California with her mother.

Mr. Archer Anderson. The second prize for ladies, a handsome hand-painted fruit-plate, was awarded to Mrs. E. K. Walker. The consolation prize for ladies, a hairpin cushion, was won by Mrs. E. K. Walker. The first prize for gentlemen, a beautiful turquoise and pearl bracelet, was won by Mr. Archer Anderson. The second prize for gentlemen, a beautiful turquoise and pearl bracelet, was won by Mr. Archer Anderson. The consolation prize, a pen wiper in the shape of a sunflower, was awarded to Mr. Zook. After the prizes were distributed, the ladies and gentlemen were served with delicious refreshments.

Dr. S. H. Bundy, the special examiner in the pension department, has been ordered to Washington, where he will be assigned to a new station. Dr. Bundy has been on duty in the pension department for several years, and has an excellent record for fidelity and efficiency. He expresses his regret at leaving, because of the associations he learns behind him. He is president of the board of officers of the First Christian Church, and has a large mission Sunday-school on South Broadway, and does not like having to give up this work.

Tyler and Dundee Place, opposite Compton Hill Park, Shaw's Garden and Tower Grove, is the nearest residence to the center of the city. Purchasers offered special inducements if they will build at once—now low. Do not wait till all the improvements are made.
